Because someone would commit acts that bleed the people of their money, as well as causing enormous problems and pain for developers and communities, still remains a mystery. A result could not be called to conquer other players despite having an unfair advantage. There are different types of hacks that cheaters prefer, the automatic goal and x-ray vision are the most popular in pubg. If we were to classify these hacks from worse to the worst of the worst, the character model change will be for the end of the spectrum, 99 players will be frozen while the cheat goes on a fictitious rampaga. Yes, the cheats have found a way to DDOs or connect the server and freeze the game of each other player into the plane, including their teammates. Hack blocks every movement of players within the game and then disconnects them. Once it happens, they can try to restart the game and reinsert the game but does not link.
