I'm sure I can not tell if it's worse than he is kind of cheating on you, or worse than you're good about it. Chan-Young asks about his mother and the Meeting of the PTA, and Eun-Sang just says vaguely that someone got into her place. Tan answers with your usual rectory questions, asking if it's okay for them to walk together, and this time it's the only one to pass it. And as if in the suggestion, Tan's phone rings with a call from the father. When she opens, Tan is looking back at her. God, Ãfâ Â © Worger than before? Before young people can get a word in Edgewise, he strokes the way she came. Hyun-joo waits and waits outside for her encounter, and then finally won texts: Ã â € ¢ ¬ Less than young? Hyo-shin appears and notes that Rachel is too good to cling to tan, and she turns on the attached part. She turns to go, and he backhugs she: Å â € ™ ¬ "wait only a little. He tells her not to take things, and declares that she did not see half of what he really likes. Tan sighs that he does not need this type of insurance, and he adds that this home really becomes sadder when he is in it. Young woman - finds her in the library and asks about her faux, knowing that her mother and in designer duds and various homes in the salary do not add. I like it as if you do not know the meaning of words. Rachel pulls the tan to say that the mother is requested Toying a brunch, and she says he can date who wants, since this has nothing to do with their engagement. Tan leaves with Hyom-Shin's mysterious medical disease. How can I root for my hero find love and cross all socially divisive thresholds that unfairly separate it from Unique true love ... if I can not even find out why Will we be better together? He waits at the service entrance for her to come home and pulls her to the cellar, insisting that they have to combine their stories about today's confrontation. She knows that she will be the one who will hurt and alone at the end of this story, but that's okay, they will date. She decides everything well, they will date, and he will break off the engagement and be kicked out of his house, and then they will see if he still says that he likes her. Bo-na is busy preparing camping couple shoes for her and Chan-young, and in return asks him for a lot of hand, ride and hugs. Too rational? If your mother finds out we're dating, my mother and I are out on the street. Of course she doesn't have it, and Young-do begins to tell the amazing news he found yesterday when Tan interrupts him. He tells her to have fun at the camp, and that he'll miss her while she's away. The children parody the game, and Chan-young takes a blow to protect Bo-na, even if they are on opposite sides. He knows all the reasons why she's rejecting him and hurting his pride, but I've shown courage for you, and you won't do a single thing for me. His words finally begin to sink, but he tells her that he'll stop pestering, so if that's what she wants: I thought you were a beautiful dream, but you are a bad dream are a bad dream. whether he should save her or not, and says he will let her go if she tells him why she left Tana's house early in the morning. Tan asks if anything has changed at home, but Hyo-shin shakes his head, and says he's planning to do something big to upset the order. He asks Won what he will do, and Won knows his father well enough to expect the question: inherit Jeguk or pick a girl? Since they are in the clear, He says he needs to go to the camp when his mother obviously went to the meeting of parents and did all this because of him. Hyun-Jooo wonders aloud to herself, â € œHeje is the day? We must have broken today. How sad it is to pass all the relationship imagining when that day will arrive. Tan tells him that there is nothing to harm himself, and Hyo-Shin guarantees that he hates hospital food enough not to try the suicide again. At least she rolls her eyes at him instead of crying. She wondered if he is simply stupid not to have heard all the things she said to now, but he does not disagree that he is mute: â € œI like when you're angry and I like it When you're smiling. At home, Madame Han is sick of worries that tan is not yet at home, and mommy gently massaging her hands to make her feel better. Bo-in hits the trigger immediately and shoots in Rachel before the whistle sounds, earning him a save of palms of his teammates. He only fixes on the part of the dating, but she soaks him with a cold splash of reality: â € œYou do not you know? But tan points out that if he and young-do you are both, one of them will not return alive. * Sporkeye * Once they are alone, Eun-Sang agrees that this will be better than his style to terrify it. Download] Audio Clip: Adobe Flash Player (Version 9 or higher) is required to play this audio clip. She hesitates and then calls Tan, and runs to Rachel in the forest doing exactly the same thing. Tan clearly knows what is really happening to him, and Hyo-Shin still talks about last year's suicocium- â € œWhen he went to see Tan in Los Angeles as if he was talking about lunch of yesterday. So you will stop chattering about your first world problems, young master? â € œâ € he asks if his sincerity does not mean anything to and decides that she is right about them not being suitable for each other. Shh, we're in a drama! Don't make jokes about things like that. And until the show is successful in doing that (or here is a thought - ³ can't stop playing completely!) It will continue to approach and leave my heart to have in this one. You also don't need JavaScript enabled in your browser. He says he will eat to show now, and grab it in an open as the boys look down at each other. Tan comes and tells his mother to stop having eun-sung spy on him, and refuses to go to camp even when the mother cries that she paid for everything because of him. Tan asks why they have to hide, and when he sees that his mother is being discovered, he sighs and apologizes for everything. So today 3're not daring, apparently. She goes out in tears. Eun-Sang walks to check his score, but Tan jumps to block his way. But somehow at the end of the day, she still ends up with the foot in her game. She chooses to reject her offer and keep her hair down. Madam Han comes knocking, so he hides him behind the door and says he's naked. Rachel tells her that she is a good friend with a tan, and cuts the pleasant beat with the citizen who would like to break the engagement. I lived through the secret garden's and a gentleman's dignity, and I resigned myself to the fact that 3 just disagree on some fundamental things. Meanwhile, Eun-Sang is being interrogated by Madam Han for dirt on Tan - made Young - doing with a 3 tree at school, and if not, why did Rachel threaten to break the engagement? History has convinced me that they live in different worlds, enough to be compared to royalty and commoners, and enough to make their social rifts a credible source of conflict. She had some great moments in this episode, where she finally ÅðŸTM*** did not restrain herself with Tan, and stood up to Young-do sighs that if the family is off-limits, it leaves only one thing to fight for: Eun-sang. He is going to stay there, so she follows up the stairs, and then hesitates again in the hallway outside her room. He points out that she is always interested in him when he does bad things. Dad says he needs Rachel as safe (as in the company's actions, if his legitimacy is called into question, because he is in fact illegitimate). What's the point of that hanger, when she cares about it, and he calls and Eun-sang squeezes a hand over her mouth. She scoffs that this wonder is waiting for me, but this has convinced me of the other thing, that their love is worth all the bruise on the wrist and the pride it takes to pass. the day around here. And hitting him. I want to root for Tan, but his idea of giving space to a girl is to see her on CCTV cameras and force her skin. The results go up, and Chan-young is first in her class as always, while Rachel is second. Manager Yoon gets into the hotel elevator to see Won, and finds that mystery man he saw delivering an envelope to President Dad. Young-do asks if his fiancée knows about his playing dates. Later, Tan says unreservedly that he is dating Eun-sang and Rachel knows about it. He asks again what his relationship with Tan is, and she shoots back: What does it matter what we are? If you're not worried and know how much it can hurt you both, like Just stop and hug hugging Out? I know Rachel thinks she'll win this way, but I feel like we should thank her for sending Tan out, or at least kicking her complacent ass a little. This should go swimming. Time for the trials in the middle, and everyone strives except BoÂâ€TMs scribbling Chan-youngââ€TMs scribbling Iâ€TMm doing it so you can cross all the thresholds of the world. But Young-do sings to say that he has found a reason to go now, looking directly at Eun-sang. You're not my tutor anymore, so I'm as if this would always ruin all the want to have sympathy for Young-do, but he thinks that terrorizing a girl is a show of affection, because negative attention is better than being lonely. Dad asks Tan what he did to make Rachel want to break the engagement, and Youngdo. Young-do.
