Who is dr cindy trimm biography

Dr. Cindy Trimm learned early on if "it is to be, it's up to me." Born into poverty in Bermuda, the sixth of seven children, raised by a single mother, she began tapping into her personal power to create change as a youth. With both an encouraging mother and empowered mindset, Cindy Trimm became the youngest senator in the history of her country, and was being groomed to become the first female Premier. As she began to summit what many thought would be her greatest success, Dr. Trimm found she could have a voice in a larger arena. She left Bermuda to launch a global leadership transformation organization, now known worldwide as Trimm International.Today, as a bestselling author, Dr. Trimm is a sought-after empowerment specialist, revolutionary thinker, and transformational leader. She has earned a distinguished reputation as a catalyst for change and voice of hope to the nations. Listed among Ebony magazine's Power 100 as the "top 100 doers and influencers in the world today." Dr. Trimm is a featured speaker on the world's largest platforms, a frequent guest on Christian broadcasting's most popular TV and radio programs, and continually tops the National Bestsellers Lists. Dr. Trimm combines her wealth of leadership expertise with her depth of spiritual understanding to reveal life-transforming messages that empower and inspire. Seasoned with humor, compassion, revelatory insight, and personal candor, Dr. Trimm translates hard-hitting spiritual insights into everyday language that empower individuals to transform their lives—helping change the path people take in search of meaning, dignity, purpose, and hope. "Participating in The 40 Day Soul Fast has made such an impact on my life that words cannot even describe. Starting the study, I was a typical lukewarm Christian that was just following along in the Word but not truly living it out the best way that I could. This study challenged me and really helped me to become accountable for the lifestyle that I was living, digging deep into my soul and leading me to be a strong and confident woman fully enveloped in the Word of God and truly living out this authentic lifestyle every day." —Alexa Diamond (Small-Group Participant) "In the past year and a half as I decided to grow stronger in my personal relationship with God, He quickly revealed to me that I have been a puppet and have allowed others to operate and control my strings instead of allowing my God to be in control. I had been praying for God to show me what to do to with my hurt. That's when I decided to take part in the study of the 40 Day Soul Fast. During the 40 day soul fast journey God showed me those who have controlled my life and why I allowed it to happen." I don't just love being married; I love being married to Russell. ....It's like heaven on earth."Dr. Cindy Trimm-Tomlinson and her husband Russell Tomlinson on their wedding day in October, 2018.Christian author, Preacher and speaker Dr Cindy Trimm shares story of her love-life and marriage with Pastor Russell Tomlinson.Recall that Cindy announced her engagement with Pastor Russell on her social media in 2017.I'm #engaged!!!! I'm elated & overwhelmed by God's faithfulness! My heart is full & I couldn't be happier to be marrying Russell Tomlinson!, she wrote on her instagram page.In an interview with Newsweek, the evangelist who at age 60 wedded Russell, October 2018, revealed she always wanted to be married and thought she would have been married several years ago."Many people ask if I had put off marriage intentionally—or if I never intended to marry, but then perhaps I changed my mind. In truth, I always wanted to be married. I grew up in abject poverty and as a child, I loved reading—Cinderella was my favorite. I loved the idea of the fairy tale couple," she told Newsweek.Trump: Jesus Christ Is The Most Famous Person In The World (Video)I actually thought I would have been married by thirty, however, thirty came and went and by fifty-eight, I was still unmarried. But, I always believed I was marriage material, and never considered otherwise.Over the years, I dated all kinds of wonderful men, but none of them had that "thing" I was looking for. I later discovered that the "thing" I was looking for was affirmation—that my suitor would affirm me as the authentic person I was; that he would be fine with who I was as a leader, entrepreneur, and independently wealthy woman. I wanted and needed my spouse to embrace me for who I was as a thinker and problem-solver. I didn't need confirmation because I had an extra helping of confidence already. I was not a damsel in distress. I was whole, authentic, confident, and all woman—with no "baggage." If anything, I traveled through life with a handbag of hope and the high-heeled shoes of aspiration. I like to say that I used those high heels to break professional glass ceilings!Russell was actually a colleague of mine. I knew his first wife and their children, but I hadn't seen them in about twenty-five years. Ironically, they lived in my neighborhood, and yet never ran into them - not even once. Even if he had been single, Russell would have been the very last person I would have considered marrying, because I had a rule to never fraternize with colleagues, past or present, no matter how legitimately available they were.Tribe That Formerly Practiced Cannibalism and Killed Missionaries Finally Turns to GodThen in 2016, I heard that his wife had passed away, and reached out to extend my personal condolences. As far as I knew, neither of us had any interest in the other. Then, a few months later, right out of the blue, Russell called to say he'd been thinking about me. I told him later that his call had completely blindsided me. All of that to say, I did agree to a date, and then to another, and another.For him the connection was instant. For me it grew over time—albeit a fairly short time. It took me a while to say "I love you" in response to him sharing his love for me. I think it was about three months into our relationship. He was charming, warm, caring, authentic, honest, attentive, and fully confident in who he was. We shared the same values, love for humanity, marriage paradigms, love for adventure, cross-cultural exchange, and family. A few months into our relationship, in 2017, he proposed to me in Bermuda at an event at which I was the keynote speaker. I don't believe there was one dry eye amongst the women. After he took a knee, of course I had to say, "Yes".Dr. Cindy Trimm-Tomlinson and her husband Russell Tomlinson.Aged 60, I truly had that "Cinderella wedding." In October 2018, Russell and I were married at Hampton Court Palace in England—the beautiful palace built by King Henry VIII in the early 1500s. The day was breathtaking, I wore a traditional white gown bedazzled with Swarovski crystals and a long train. It was designed and made in South Africa, the Swarovski crystals were sewn by hand in the U.S. and the final fitting was done in England by Lin Chan, who has worked for many designers and fashion houses.40 Christian Soldiers Refuse To Bow, All Died On Ice For Their Faith In Jesus ChristI don't just love being married; I love being married to Russell. I loved dating him, but now that I'm married to him it's like heaven on earth. I think if it gets any better than this, I would have to call earth heaven. My ultimate dream is that our union would be a powerful partnership in advancing humanity—something we have both dedicated our lives to over the years.Russell E.
