Kiwi Magician Girl
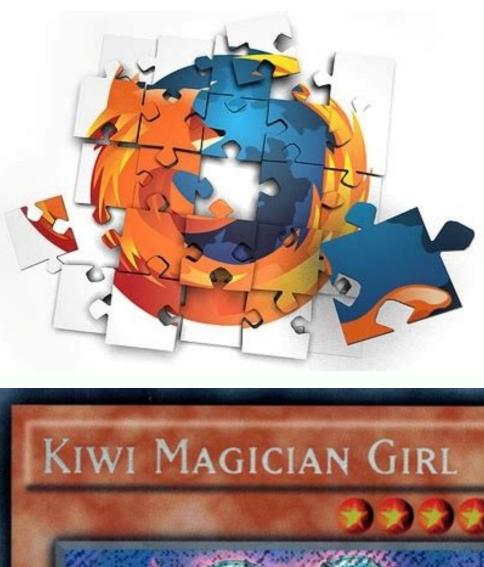

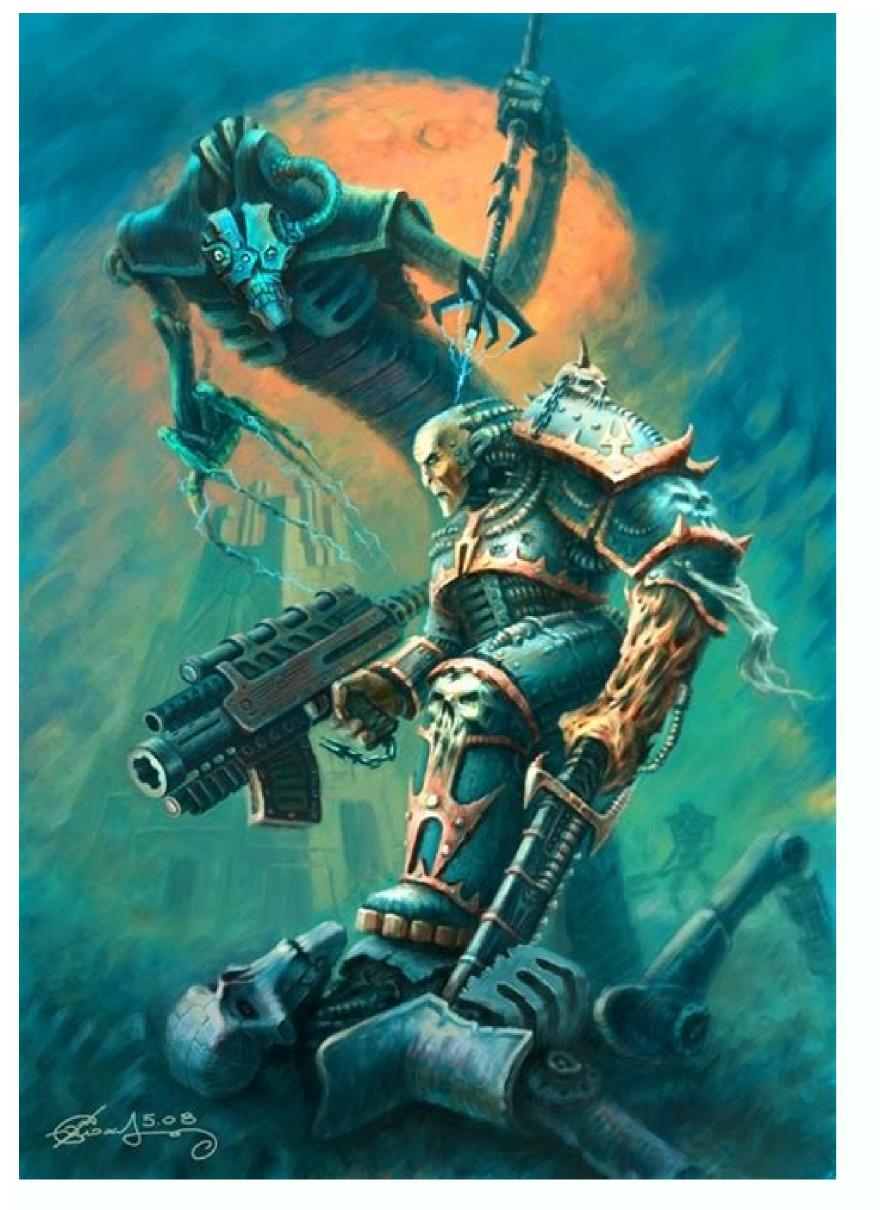

⭐⭐⭐⭐⭐

[SPELLCASTER/EFFECT]
During either player's turn: You can discard this card; "Magician Girl" monsters you currently control gain 300 ATK and DEF for each "Magician Girl" monster with different names on the field and in the Graveyards, until the end of this turn. Spellcaster-Type monsters you control cannot be destroyed by card effects, and your opponent cannot target them with card effects.

Ill try to post the info you were asking about when I switch back to admin account. Thanks for the effort! Read this answer in context 0 Hi djdanieu, I'm not sure what's happening there. Can Firefox successfully retrieve the file if you use this method: right-click the Install button and choose Save Link As... Or do you get any new error message? Hi djdanieu, I'm not sure what's happening there. Can Firefox successfully retrieve the file if you use this method: right-click the Install button and choose Save Link As... Or do you get any new error message? Yes, it defaults to save as XPInstall Install. here is the file path for ublock orgin ublock_origin-1.20.2-an+fx i just tried to do the install add on from file, and nothing happened. No progress bar or indicator popped up. i just tried to do the install add on from file, and nothing happened. No progress bar or indicator popped up. Okay, that's very odd. Could you check for error messages in the "Browser Console" that might be related to this problem. You can open the separate Browser Console window using either: "3-bar" menu button > Web Developer > Browser Console (menu bar) Tools > Web Developer > Browser Console (Windows) Ctrl+Shift+j Click the trash can icon at the upper left to clear the window, then switch back over to the Add-ons site and try the Install again. (Or try the Install from File on the Add-ons page.) Then switch back over to the browser console window. Did Firefox log any errors related to that action? To protect against unwanted DLL injections and to better protect against zero-day vulnerabilities, a launcher process runs Firefox with medium integrity (similar to a standard user) even if your regular user has administrative privileges. This article has more information on the potential side effects: However, I don't understand why that would prevent installing an add-on?! Have you turned UAC down to the minimum setting ("Do not Notify")? Perhaps it is related to a change in how Firefox 68 starts up. Hi edcjones, thank you for the console text: "PopupNotifications._onButtonEvent: Button click happened before the window was focused"The "Cancel" option in the box also fails. Unless something else happened to take focus away from that window to another window, that is a very odd error to get. Did this problem start for you in the latest ESR release (July 9th+), or earlier, or more recently?

In its Safe Mode, Firefox temporarily deactivates extensions, hardware acceleration, any userChrome.css/userContent.css files, and some other advanced features to help you assess whether these are causing the problem. You can restart Firefox in Safe Mode using either: "3-bar" menu button > "?" Help button > Restart with Add-ons Disabled (menu bar) Help menu > Restart with Add-ons Disabled and OK the restart. A small dialog should appear. Click "Start in Safe Mode" (not Refresh). Any improvement? Hi edcjones, I don't know why those drop-down panels are not working for you.
