Write a letter to the editor of a newspaper on the consequences of climatic changes due to various man-made reasons. Take ideas from the notes given below: Notes: * Deforestation * Pollution * Unlimited needs and limited means* Encroachments * Unplanned urbanization * industrializationAns. C-15, Mayur ViharNew Delhi March 2, 2020The Editor The Hindustan Times New DelhiSub: Consequences of climatic changesSirThrough the column of your esteemed newspaper, I want to express my deep concern and anxiety about the climatic changes due to various man-made reasons. Man is responsible for all the degradation of the environment. It started with the indiscriminate felling of trees. Deforestation has led to innumerable harms to the environment and ecology. Trees provide oxygen and absorb CO2 from the atmosphere. The clearing of forests led to droughts and dry spells. This has resulted in global warming and sudden climatic changes. Pollution of air, water, and the land is making our living quite miserable. Our seas, rivers, and lakes are also polluted. They have become dumping grounds for human and industrial wastes. Glaciers are melting. So are the ice volumes of the Poles. Man’s unlimited needs and limited natural resources are further aggravating the problem. Unplanned urbanization and industrialization have adversely affected the landscape and climate. Let us check the degradation of the environment and make this planet a pleasant place for human habitation.Yours faithfullyRadha/RaghuDownload the above Letter in PDF (Printable)2. Read the two graphs given below. Graph ‘A’ shows the increase in the carbon dioxide content in the atmosphere and Graph ‘B’ shows its effect on the temperature that has led to global warming. As Nalin, write a letter to the editor of ‘The Times of India’, showing concern over the matter. Give reasons for the increase in global warming and global temperature and suggest means to curb it. Ans. 12, Kasim Manzil, Main MarketDibrugarh, AssamMarch 02, 2020The EditorThe Times of India GuwahatiSub: CO2 and Global WarmingSir,Through the column of your esteemed daily, I want to highlight the increase in the carbon dioxide content in the atmosphere. This has resulted in global warming and the rise in global temperature. We are condemned to pay a very high price of development and progress. Over the last decade, our environment and atmosphere have suffered severe degradation. The content of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere has been steadily but surely on the rise. In 1991, its level in the atmosphere was near 855. In ten years, it has gone up to 870. Similarly, global warming has resulted in a steep rise in temperature. The larger the content of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, the greater is the global warming. Nothing has caused so much havoc as the deforestation done on a very large scale. Trees are the main source of oxygen. The burning of firewood, coal, and LPG increases the CO2 level in the atmosphere. Vehicular smoke is another cause of enhancing the CO2 level. If effective and prompt steps are not taken to minimize the CO2 level, the whole atmosphere will turn into a gas chamber. We have to strike a balance between progress and survival. All factories, vehicles, and devices that produce more than the required level of CO2, must be banned. Reforestation must be launched on a big scale to counter the rise of CO2 in the atmosphere. Save the atmosphere. Otherwise, our survival itself is in danger. Yours faithfullyMalin3. As an aware citizen of the country, you are concerned about the increase in road accidents in India. Interpret the graph given alongside and using your own ideas, write a letter to the editor of the newspaper ‘The Chronicle’. You are Arun/Anita. Ans. 12, Patliputra Colony Patna March 02, 2020The EditorThe Chronicle PatnaSub: Increase in road accidents in metros SirThrough the column of your esteemed newspaper, kindly allow me to express my great concern and anxiety at the increase in road accidents in the metropolitan cities of India.It is quite disturbing that over the last few years there has been a steady increase in the number of people killed in road accidents in our country. In the year 2013, 2014 and 2015, 137,000, 139,671 and 146,000 people died respectively in road accidents in India. Most of these accidents were caused by rash and negligent driving. Drinking and driving have become quite a common feature. The rules of road safety and caution are thrown to the winds. The concerned authorities must give exemplary punishments to the rash and negligent drivers. Drinking and driving can’t go together. The defaulters must be heavily fined or punished. The traffic police must enforce the rules and culture of the road very strictly. Only then our roads will be safe and secure. Yours faithfullyBimlaDownload the above Letter in PDF (Printable)4. Amritsar. Amritsar has witnessed some unholy activities like thefts, dacoities, robberies, and even murders in recent months. This has made life quite unsafe and miserable in the city.I am a resident of Civil Lines. It is an area inhabited by important government officials, rich and powerful citizens. However, of late it has earned the notoriety of being the most criminal-prone area in the city. Every day we hear thefts and robberies committed in one part of the locality or the other. The murder of a senior citizen last month has resulted in the total loss of faith in the local police. Cases of chain snatching have become a common feature of life in the area. Women rarely move out of their houses after dark.We suggest some immediate and effective measures to restore law and order in the area. There should be extensive police patrolling after sunset to ensure safety for young girls and women. Exemplary punishment should be given to the lawbreakers and criminals. I hope the local police will take immediate and effective steps to restore peace, law, and order in the area. The earlier, the better.Yours faithfullyTwain KaurDownload the above Letter in PDF (Printable)5. You are disturbed at seeing many unfortunate homeless orphans spending their night in the open on chilly wintry nights. Using the information given below to write a letter to the editor of a national daily urging the state administration to provide free night shelters to the needy and homeless poor.Information: * Thousands of poor people are homeless* Many suffer; some deaths reported* Spend chilly nights on pavements and in the open*Need for ‘night shelters’ or ‘Rayan Baseras’ for the homeless Ans. 12, Nai Wala Gali, Karol Bagh New Delhi. March 02, 2020The Editor The Hindustan Times New DelhiSub: Night shelters for homeless poorSirThrough the column of your prestigious national daily, I want to highlight the urgent need for providing night shelter for homeless people. I am a resident of 12, Nai Wala Gali, Karol Bagh, New Delhi. India excels in contrast. One of the major economies of the world has the maximum number of homeless poor people in the world. Millions of people in India spend their nights under the starry or cloudy skies. Many unfortunate persons fight for a little space on the pavements. Long winters become unbearable for these homeless orphans. They try to find out some shelters under the bridges, at railway stations or in public buildings. But they are hounded out from there by the police. Last month five people lost their lives due to extreme cold conditions.The administration must show its human face. The state government must open adequate night shelters and provide free lodging for such persons. It will save hundreds of unfortunate homeless people from dying in cold or chilly nights. Taking help from the information given below, write a letter to the editor of a national daily expressing your concern at the nuisance caused by the stray cattle on the roads of your city. Of late the city has witnessed many accidents due to the nuisance caused by stray cattle. Only a few days ago a biker was killed when a running cow hit him in the middle of the road. We can’t imagine cattle strolling leisurely on the roads of New York, London, or Sydney. But India presents a totally different scene. You can find cows walking with leisurely steps on the highways or in the lanes of any city. Puri is a temple town. To make things still worse, people throw food in the middle of the roads for the animals. The roads become feeding centers of cows, bulls, horses, donkeys, and dogs.There is no arrangement for capturing such stray cattle and sending them to the special pens run by the corporation. There should be a special squad. It should have fixed responsibilities of clearing away the roads from the unwanted and stray cattle.Yours faithfullyMurli PandaDownload the above Letter in PDF (Printable)7. I hope these lines find some space in your prestigious newspaper. I was one among a group of students who represented my state Uttar Pradesh in a national youth exchange programme in New Delhi. It was really an eye-opener. It made me realize how great India is in its plurality. The spirit of unity in diversity is really amazing. What a wonder is a country called India! Students from Mizoram, Meghalaya, Assam, Manipur, Nagaland, and Tripura presented a different world of the North-East that is fascinating as well as thrilling. Kashmiri, Dogri, Himachali students presented the splendours of a culture that throbs the valleys and foothills of the Himalayas. Only there, I realized the concept of ‘Incredible India’.It was a novel experience to see how students of different religious, regional, cultural, and linguistic groups mingled together like one big family. It was a study in contrasts. Their complexions, traits, dresses, food-habits, and ways of life reflected a rich variety. But an underlying unity and national unity echoes in this seeming diversity. India is really incredible. Our diversity is also the strength of our unity. This spirit of national integration must be encouraged and promoted in every walk of life. We should learn to live like a family of 1.25 billion people transcending our regional, cultural, religious, and linguistic diversities. It is a pity that within a decade everything has reached a stage of decay and deterioration. I am a regular visitor to the lake. Of late residents of the colony have been disturbed by the constant flow of foul-smelling water into the lake garden. This has been caused due to the repeated bursting of a sewer line running next to the lake garden. The foul-smelling water accumulates and stagnates in the lake. This has resulted in the heavy presence of algae in the lake. It has hampered the boating facilities provided here by the authorities. The state of fish farming is quite deplorable.I hope this letter will arouse the concerned authorities out of their hibernation. It must have basic infrastructure and civic facilities. Good transport facilities, mass housing projects, a scientific sewage system and good drainage are some of the basic requirements of the residents. Another important issue is to provide pure and clean water for drinking to the general public. A network of good roads helps in streamlining the transport system and the traffic. The medical services should be readily available at reasonable rates in government hospitals. Unfortunately, all these infrastructures and facilities are conspicuous by their absence in Kanpur city. Unplanned urbanization, encroachments, illegal constructions and frequent violations of the law have made Kanpur a huge slum not suitable for humanWhile preparing any blueprint of a modern city the emphasis must be laid on the superstructure and the infrastructure. Only by updating and upgrading the sewage, drainage, transport, water and electric conveniences and medical facilities we can make Kanpur a pleasant place to live in. Yours faithfullySharat/Sharon10. Even our food habits have been globalized. The craze for fast foods like burgers, pietas, and pasta has increased in recent years. The youth have developed a special liking for them. McDonald’s, KFC, Pizza Huts are leading multinationals who promote junk foods.The junk food, no doubt, tingles our taste buds. But it has little or no nutritional value. The general public, particularly, the youth must know the health hazards caused by the regular eating of junk food. It causes obesity. Habitual eaters suffer from many other diseases of liver, digestion, and kidneys. Let us remember that fresh food cooked in our kitchen with liberal use of vegetables and fruits are really tasty as well as nutritious. Junk food is good only for ‘junkies’.Yours faithfullyRaviDownload the above Letter in PDF (Printable)11. You are Revathy. You happened to see the following news item in the newspaper about the popularity of Indian Handicrafts abroad. But you are unhappy about the lack of recognition given to the artisans by the Government. Using the information given below and your own ideas, write a letter to the editor of a newspaper about the difficulties they face and the steps to be taken to solve their problems. Indian Handicrafts sought after New Delhi: Indian Handicrafts are in great demand in the US, Europe and the Gulf countries. The artisans feel their products are not given the required publicity. Further, the products are bought from them at very low prices by the middlemen and sold later at high prices abroad. They hope that the Government would do something in this regard. Ans. 12, Ansari Road, DaryaganjNew Delhi-110002February 28, 2020The EditorThe Times of India New DelhiSub: Promotion of Indian handicraftsSir,Through the column of your esteemed newspaper, I want to highlight the difficulties and plight of the artisans who make the design of Indian handicrafts. Indian handicrafts have earned quite a name and fame abroad. Indian handicrafts are in great demand in the US, Europe, and the Gulf countries. The businessmen and their agents mint money at the cost of the artisans. They exploit them. The Government is indifferent to their problems. The poor artisans and craftsmen never get the raw material at reasonable rates. Then comes the problem of selling their finished products. The touts and middlemen decide their fate and rates. It is shocking that most of these artisans live in perpetual poverty, want, and neglect. The Government must come out with a blueprint that may lead to the promotion of Indian handicrafts and the protection of the artisans. Co-operatives must be encouraged. The artisans and craftsmen must be provided easy loans to buy the raw products. The middlemen and crafty businessmen should not be allowed to fleece them. Only such positive steps can promote Indian handicrafts abroad and save the exploitation of the native artisans.Yours faithfullyRevathyDownload the above Letter in PDF (Printable)12.
